Process orientation

Working in partnership is very important to us. We already have the word TEAM in our company name, after all. In addition, we have specified guidelines for our actions in this corporate policy:

This corporate policy applies to every employee of our company. The management and every manager in the company likewise strive to comply with this corporate policy.

Compliance with relevant national, European and international laws and regulations is a matter of course for us.

The management evaluates the effectiveness of the management system through regular checks and, if necessary, initiates suitable corrective and improvement measures. We work to establish trust with employees, authorities, customers and suppliers as well as other interested parties.

Our customers are the benchmark for the quality of our services. Your judgement is decisive for us. We demonstrate the trust placed in us through competent service.

The health and safety of our employees are important to us. We provide a suitable infrastructure, and train our employees on occupational health and safety issues.

For us, innovation is reflected on the one hand in the company's ability to adapt to changing market and working conditions, and on the other hand in the development and improvement of methods and services.

Through lean processes oriented towards customer benefit, we ensure that customer requirements are met. In a continuous improvement process, we review the changing market and working conditions and adapt our processes accordingly.

Company policy

Every employee is responsible for the quality of our services. They ensure this by acting with foresight and by using effective methods and procedures.

Errors are communicated openly, analysed and their causes are subsequently eliminated effectively.

Success orientation

We have derived goals for our company from this mission statement. The data and information required to evaluate our actions are brought together in a coordinated key figure system, which we use to regularly reflect on and evaluate the current situation.

Environmental orientation

Protecting the environment and constantly improving our environmental goals are important corporate goals for us. With a suitable management system, we ensure that tasks are implemented in all operational functions and levels. An important management task is the reduction of environmental pollution. The procurement and design of new equipment are also geared towards this, because we already take into account their environmental compatibility, the economical use of resources used and the avoidance/reduction of waste/emissions when designing our services. We use suitable control measures to ensure compliance with legal requirements and implement continuous improvements.

Compliance

We have created organizational precautions in the company to ensure compliance with legal and official requirements as well as our own defined guidelines (Code of Conduct).
